2009 Talent Shortage Survey Results

Manpower Inc. (NYSE: MAN) surveyed nearly 39,000 employers across 33 countries and territories in the first quarter of 2009 to determine the extent to which talent shortages are impacting today's labor markets. The results of the fourth annual Talent Shortage Survey revealed that 30 percent of employers worldwide are having difficulty filling positions due to the lack of suitable talent available in their markets, which is one percentage point weaker compared to last year's survey – a surprising result given the current downturn and the associated high unemployment in many markets. These results indicate that while more people may be looking for jobs, but they don't generally have the skills that organizations are looking for.

GLOBAL: Percentage of Employers Having Difficulty Filling Jobs

Employers having the most difficulty finding the right people to fill jobs are those in Romania (62%), Taiwan (62%), Peru (56%), Japan (55%), Australia (49%), Costa Rica (48%) and Poland (48%). The talent shortage appears to be least problematic in Ireland (5%), Spain (8%), United Kingdom (11%), China (15%) and the Czech Republic (17%).

Compared to 2008, employers reporting that talent shortages are considerably less pervasive are those in Hong Kong (down 24 percentage points), Norway (down 21 percentage points), the Czech Republic and Singapore (each down 20 percentage points) and Spain (down 19 percentage points).

Global Results

The top 10 jobs that employers are having difficulty filling across the 33 countries and territories surveyed are (ranked in order):

1. Skilled Trades
2. Sales Representatives
3. Technicians (primarily production/operations, engineering or maintenance)
4. Engineers
5. Management/Executives
6. Accounting & Finance Staff
7. Laborers
8. Production Operators
9. Secretaries, PAs, Administrative Assistants & Office Support Staff
10. Drivers

*In this survey, Skilled Trades refers to a broad range of job titles that require workers to possess specialized skills, traditionally learned over a period of time as an apprentice. Examples of skilled trades jobs are: electricians, bricklayers, carpenters, cabinetmakers, masons, plumbers, welders, etc. Where possible, these jobs are listed in order of highest demand for each country.
